

Redwood Nation Earth First!

Who we are

Please fund us well so that we may continue to assist the folks blocking chainsaws with their bodies. We will keep you well informed by mailing you our newsletter. State authorities, the IRS, and the judges tell us that your support is completely legal. Each Earth First! direct action to protect the redwoods is an individual act of conscience.

When someone must nonviolently break the law to protect ancient redwoods in this region, they deserve our support. By stepping in with assistance, a potentially unknown act can become widely known, inspirational, and celebrated. Fair media coverage and a competent legal defense can help local people protect their civil rights. For instance, when 1,033 people trespassed and got arrested at the Scotia mill in Humboldt County, CA during the Headwaters Forest protests in 1996, authorities tried to impose misdemeanors with fines. Our lawyers pressed for individual innocent trials. When that looked likely, all charges were dropped.

Should you ever feel the desire to feel the wind in your face as you stop a multinational corporation from wrecking nature, contact us! We would love to arm you with the tools of nonviolence as well as blockade history and methods. When folks rush out to the forest with armored handcuffs, tree sitting platforms, and rope to protect nature in Humboldt and Mendocino Counties, Redwood Nation Earth First! will be there to help!

How to help

The best way to help is to volunteer. Folks living in Humboldt and Mendocino Counties and vicinity can contact:

redwoodef@hotmail.com

We always need help from lawyers, writers, photographers, area activists, graphic designers, artists, and from folks with numerous other special skills and abilities. Whether you don't mind being in the public eye or wish to remain anonymous, we can connect you with the campaign. If you entirely new to working with a political campaign, we would love to teach you how to assist with media, outreach, and legal support of direct action activists.

To donate money or supplies you can mail a check or cash, or supplies to:

Earth First!
PO Box 219
Bayside, CA 95524

Donations are generally not tax deductible as Redwood Nation Earth First! is an unincorporated 501(c)3. If you would like to make a tax deductible donation please send an email and we will contact you. One of our partners from an incorporated 501(c)3 can receive the funds and disperse assistance to us.
